PREFACE.

THE Registers, of which this present work is to the best of the writer's ability a true and literal copy, belonged originally to the extensive Parish of Burnsall in Craven, which at that time consisted of the townships of Burnsall, Appletreewick, Hartlington, Thorpe-sub-montem, Rilstone, Hetton, Cracoe, Bordley, Kilnsey, and Conistone. There were, in addition to the Parish Church of St. Wilfrid at Burnsall, two chapels of ease—St. Peter's at Rilstone and St. Mary's at Conistone. At all three, an entirely separate set of Registers were kept, a list of which is given below, down to the year 1813.

At Burnsall.—1. Weddings, christenings and burials, 1559-1700.

2. Weddings, christenings, and burials, 1701-1739.

3. Baptisms and burials, 1783-1812 (paper).

4. Weddings, 1786-1812 (paper).

At Rilstone.—1. Weddings, christenings, and burials, 1559-1653.

2. Weddings, christenings, and burials, 1653-1751.

3. Weddings, christenings, and burials, 1751-1803.

4. Weddings, 1803-1812 (paper).

5. Baptisms and burials, 1803-1812 (paper).

At Conistone—1. Weddings, christenings, and burials, 1569-1680.

2. Weddings, christenings, and burials, 1682-1725.

3. Weddings, christenings, and burials, 1726-1772.

4. Weddings at one end, 1797-1812 (paper).

Baptisms and burials at the other end, 1768-1812 (paper).

By an order in Council in 1876, the ancient Parish of Burnsall was divided into two portions: the chapelry of St. Peter, Rilstone, became a Parish Church, with St. Mary, Conistone, as chapel of ease, distant from Rilstone nearly seven miles, and the townships of Rilstone, Cracoe, Hetton, Bordley, Conistone, and Kilnsey now form the Parish of Rilstone-with-Conistone. The Registers of the Chapelry of Conistone have already been printed, and edited by the Rev. W. J. Stavert, M.A., Rector of Burnsall. The present work applies to those of Rilstone only, by which is meant the townships of Rilstone, Cracoe, Hetton, and Bordley.

The MS. book A, with which this volume begins, is a folio of 78 leaves, which has been quite recently rebound. It is very beautifully written, and, with the exception of the last few leaves, by the same hand. From this fact, it is evidently a copy from an older work. The entries contained in square brackets have been made at a later period, as also, in all probability, most of those portions which are printed in smaller type. Where a line ——— is put, it is thus in the original, but where a dotted line . . . . . is found the writing is entirely illegible. The folia of the MS. represent leaves—A fol. 1r. and A fol. 1v. are thus the two pages of one leaf. The book B., beginning on page 107, consists of 102 leaves, and contains two MSS. now bound in one. Vol. I. of this work carries the copy down to the division of these two MSS. The writing in B. is very inferior to that in A., and the straightness of the lines has been very ill kept on the whole.

Rilston Raikes (or Reakes) is an old disused Quakers' burying ground. It is a small enclosure of about 13 square yards with an old gateway, the lintel of which is formed by a single stone, slightly carved. At the back of this enclosure, stands what has probably once been a chapel, but is now a barn, it has been used within this century as a school. As will be seen by referring to the Index, there do not appear to have been many burials, and such as there were took place about the same period. There is at present no trace whatever of any graves or headstones, indeed the enclosure appears to be used as a garden, and it is probable that had not their burials been entered in the Church Registers, the fact that it has ever been used as a burying ground would have been forgotten.

Since the formation of Rilstone-with-Conistone into a separate parish there have only been two Rectors, the first of whom was instituted on the same day on which the old parish was divided by an Order in Council.

Instituted
21st July, 1876	Joseph John Jeckell, B.A., St. John's Coll., Cam., died Jan. 21st, 1891.
11th April, 1891	Charles Henry Lowe, M.A., Trin. Coll., Cam.

The Benefice came into the family of the present patroness, Miss Graham, a little more than half-a-century ago.

Attersoll upon Philemon printed 1612. price 4s. 8d.—Wicked people are the greatest breakers of Princes lawes. The servants of God never rebelled they never took armes but always prayed for Princes. The ungodly care not to keepe their lawes. and if they had a care of Princes lawes they would also have a regarde of God's lawes.

Credere Deum. Credere Deo. Credere in Deum.

For there are manie degrees of faith. One step is to believe that God is, the second step, is to believe God that is to give credite to Him, that all His words which He hath spoken, and the promises which He hath made are true, the third step, is to believe in God, which requireth trust in God, according to His word and promise, being firmly resolved, that He will doe whatsoever He hath said.—Attersol.

Great is their wickedness that do not love the times of Common Prayer. They show themselves to be beastlie minded, and led with the wicked spirit of the Devill. With all . . . . —Philemon.

Good Mr. Toppan I desire you to take a script forth of your Church register of the buriall of Thomas Walker late of Cracoe deceased, and also of the christening of William Snell who is now his heire, and you must set your hand to the note, and your clarke also, that this bearer may safely sweare it to be a true coppy. It concerns the King's service very much, and therefore I pray you doe not fail herein Oct. 17 1641. your very loving friende Edwarde Radcliffe. To my loving friend Mr. John Tophan Curate at Rils. this.

Whether your Person, Vicar, Curate, or Minister doe weare any cope in your parish Church or Chappell, or minister the Holy Communion in any Chalice heretofore used at Masse, or in any prophane cuppe or glasse, or use at the ministration thereof any gestures, rites, or ceremonies, not appoynted by the booke of Common Prayer as crossing or breathing over the Sacramentall bread and wine or shewing the same to the people to be worshipped and adored, or any such lyke, or use any oyle and Chrisine tapers, spattle or any other Popish ceremonie in the ministration of the Sacrament of Baptismes.

Whether your Person, Vicar, or Curate doe every Sunday and Holyday openly in the Church call for, heare, and instruct all the children apprentises, and servaunts of both sexes, that be of convenient age within your parish, or at the least so many of them, by course as the time will serve, and as he may well heare and instruct, for halfe an houre at the leaste before or at the evening prayer withe Tenne Commandementes, the Articles of the beliefe, and the Lords prayer, and diligently examine and teach them the Catechisme set forth in the Book of Common Prayer. And whether for that purpose he doth take the names of them all, and by course call certaine of them by name every Sunday and Holyday to come to the teaching of the same.—Catechismes.

S. Barthlemewe Withers.

This day is consecrated to the honour of God and the pious memorie of his blessed Apostle S. Bartholemew, that (as appeareth in the Epistle appointed for the day) we might take occasion to praise our redeemer, for those manie wonders which were wrought by his Apostles, to the great increase of the Christian faith, and open confusion of the Churches adversaries.—Song 74 Sing this as the 9 Song.

Exceeding gracious favours Lord, 8 sillables
To thy Apostles hast thou showne,
And manie wonders by thy worde,
And in thy name, by them were done
The blinde did see, the dumbe could talke
The deafe did heare the lame did walke.
